1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projected global growth to remain stable in 2024 and 2025; owing to offsetting effects of a stronger growth forecast for advanced economies, and slower growth forecasts for emerging and developing countries. Global inflation continues to ease. Challenges to growth such as market volatility, trade restrictions, government debt levels, escalating conflicts, social unrest and China's property sector remain. Global commodity prices declined in the third quarter though was higher relative the same quarter of 2023.

Domestic economic activities were estimated to have moderated in the reviewed quarter owing to the adverse effect of labour constraint on agriculture production and the gradual recovery in the services sector; from the liquidation of Air Vanuatu. Growth in the industry sector is expected to remain constant, driven by the ongoing implementation of major government infrastructure projects. Domestic prices have declined compared to the corresponding quarter last year; implying easing of domestic price pressures which escalated in the previous year.

The Central Government operated a fiscal deficit for the year to September 2024 due to the combined effects of the slowdown in total revenue (mainly donor inflows) and increases in expenditures for the year. The Government continued into domestic borrowing to finance its deficit.

Money growth was steady owing to robust growth in domestic credit while growth in net foreign assets was moderate. Reserve money grew strongly reflecting increases in currency in circulation, statutory reserve deposits and excess reserves. Interest rates spread further widened due to a slight increase in weighted average lending interest rate; deposit rates remained unchanged.

The banking industry's financial performance remains satisfactory, though the accumulation of non performing loans remain a concern. Nonetheless, 83.4 percent of loan portfolios are classified as performing. Private sector credit further expanded reflecting a surge in the general demand for credit, despite banks continuing to maintain tight book management. The capital adequacy ratio (CAR) and liquidity position have remained well above their respective minimum thresholds.

The total domestic solvency position of domestic insurers declined during the reviewed quarter, while the required minimum solvency increased. Thus, the solvency surplus decreased relative to the previous quarter. Overall, the solvency position of domestic insurers continued to be maintained at a satisfactory level.

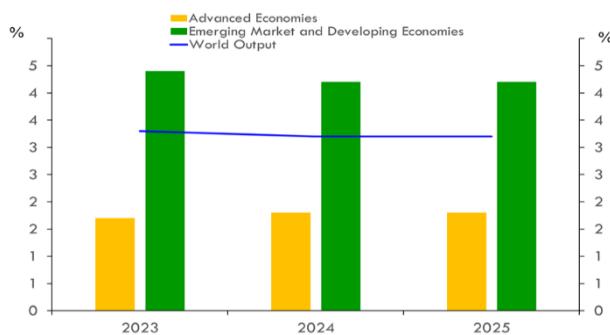

Vanuatu's current account deficit balance (CAB) is estimated to have improved reflecting improvements in net trade in goods and services balance outweighing the decline in net income balances. The capital account remained weak while the financial account balance recorded slight deterioration.

The RBV implemented two policy measures during the quarter to further address inflation, adequacy of foreign reserves and financial stability; i) increase the policy rate by 0.50 basis points to 2.75 percent and ii) raise the commercial banks capital adequacy ratio (CAR) from 10 percent to 12 percent. In terms of policy targets, annual inflation fell below the RBV's minimum target band, recording a decline of 1.9 percent in the reviewed quarter. Official foreign reserves recorded VT69,517 million in the current quarter; sufficient to cover approximately 6.8 months of imports.

2. THE INTERNATIONAL ECONOMY

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projected global growth to remain stable at 3.2 percent<sup>1</sup> in 2024 and 2025. These projections remained unchanged from the April and July's forecast. Growth forecast for advanced economies has been upgraded due to strong growth in the United States, offsetting downgrade in growth forecasts for other advanced economies such as the largest European countries. While, growth forecast for the emerging markets and developing economies has been downgraded, particularly attributed to disruption to production, ongoing conflicts in the Middle East, civil unrest, and extreme weather patterns. Global inflation, a major concern, is finally showing signs of easing with advanced economies moving more quickly to the inflation targets, than the emerging and developing economies. The downside risks to these forecasts include; market volatility, trade restrictions, government debt levels, escalating conflicts, social unrest and development in China's property sector.

(Percentage Change; Annual Data)

Vanuatu's main trading partners

In the United States (US), annual GDP grew by 3.1 percent in the third quarter, relative to 3.0 percent recorded in the previous quarter<sup>2</sup>. The main contributors to growth were: consumer spending, exports, non-residential fixed investments, and federal government spending. On the contrary, the offset to growth were, downturn in private inventory investment, followed by significant decline in residential fixed investments. The unemployment rate remained constant at 4.1 percent in June and September, higher relative to 3.8 percent in September 2023. Annual inflation rose 2.4 percent in September, compared to 3.0 percent in June, and 3.7 percent in September 2023. Furthermore, the US trade balance recorded a deficit of USD78.0 billion over the year to September 2024, relative to USD15.9 billion in the corresponding period in 2023. The increased deficit was driven by surged in imports of goods, which outweighed exports of goods and services. The Fed Board of Governors further reduced the policy rate, down from 5.50 to 5.00 percent, as inflation eased towards the Fed's target band.

(Percentage Change; Annual Data)

The Euro area is recovering slowly than expected, with the annual growth of 0.9 percent, over the year to September 2024, compared to 0.6 percent over the year to the June quarter. Growth reflected increased household consumption, high government expenditures and gross fixed capital formation. Annual headline inflation rose 1.7 percent in September 2024, relative to 4.3 percent in September 2023. The unemployment rate registered 6.3 percent over the year to September 2024. The Euro area recorded a Euro 12.5 billion surplus in trade in goods over the year to September 2024, relative to Euro 9.8 billion for the year to September 2023. This increase was highly attributed to surge in exports of machineries and vehicles. The European Central Bank (ECB) further reduced its three key interest rates by 0.25 percentage points, the deposit facility (3.25%), main refinancing operations (3.40%) and marginal lending facility (3.65%) during the quarter as inflation moved towards the ECB's targeted band.

In Australia, real GDP grew by 0.8 percent over the year to September 2024, slower than 2.1 percent for the year to September 2023. Weak household consumption and reduced business investments accounted for the weakest growth, while the offsets were increased government spending and public capital investments. Inflation rose 2.8 percent over the year to September 2024, lower than 5.4 percent for the year to September 2023. Unemployment rate remained constant at 4.1 percent in the September quarter, though still higher than 3.6 percent in the same quarter in 2023. On the trade front, Australia recorded a current account deficit of AUD14.1 billion, an increase of AUS2.2 billion from the June quarter. This reflected a decrease on the balance of goods and services trade surplus, followed by decline in net primary income deficit. During its monetary policy meeting in September, the Reserve Bank of Australia maintained its policy rate at 4.35 percent, as it continued with its aim of returning inflation to its target range of 2-3 percent.

(Percentage Change; Annual Data)

The New Zealand economy contracted further by 1.0 percent in the September quarter, with a slow annual growth of 0.1 percent. The main contributors to the annual growth were primary industries, specifically, rental, hiring, and real estate services (1.0%) and agriculture (1.4%). Consumer prices rose 2.2 percent over the year to the September 2024 quarter, down from 3.3 percent in the June 2024 quarter, and 5.6 percent in the corresponding quarter in 2023. The unemployment rate rose to 4.8 percent, compared to 4.6 percent in June, and 3.9 percent in September 2023. The New Zealand current account deficit further narrowed over the year to September 2024, recording NZD27.0 billion, relative to NZD27.6 billion over the year to the previous quarter. The narrowing of deficit reflected, a substantial decline in imports of goods and services. The Reserve bank of New Zealand (RBNZ) further reduced its policy rate from 5.50 to 5.25, as inflation moved towards the RBNZ's target band of 1 to 3 percent.

(Percentage Change; Annual Data)

In China, real GDP grew 4.6 percent over the year to September 2024, slower than 4.9 percent in the same period in 2023. The main contributors to growth were: industrial production (+5.4%), retail sales (+3.2%) and investments (primary investment: +2.3%, secondary investment: +12.3%, tertiary investment: +0.7%). Growth in industrial production was driven by higher production in mining, manufacturing and energy. Higher sales for food, particularly, catering services, sales of automobiles and recreational activities were the largest contributors to growth in retail sales. Moreover, the main drivers to the increase in investment were equipment manufacturing and high-tech manufacturing. China's urban surveyed unemployment rate stood at 5.1 percent, up by 0.1 ppts from the June 2023 quarter and September 2023 quarter, each. Annual inflation for the third quarter increased 0.4 percent, reflecting a rise in the price for food and services, compared to a decrease of 0.3 percent in the same quarter of the previous year. In terms of trade, China recorded a trade balance surplus over the year to September 2024; due to a 1.6 percent surge in exports, in particular, of mechanical and electrical products, while imports were down by 0.5 percent.

Commodity prices

Global commodity prices declined in the third quarter, though higher relative the same quarter of 2023. The IMF's all primary commodity index fell by 2.8 percent in the reviewed quarter, but higher than 0.8 percent relative to the same quarter of 2023. The downward trend in prices was noticeable in both the energy, in particular prices of petroleum and food prices. According to the International Agency Energy (IEA) and the Organization for Petroleum Energy (OPEC+), weaker demand from China and increased production from non-OPEC+ countries such as the US, Brazil and Guyana were the core driver for the fall in petroleum price. The declining petroleum prices triggered the energy price index to contract by 3.4 percent and 5.2 percent in the reviewed quarter and the same quarter of 2023. Similarly, the food price index fell by 4.4 percent and 2.8 percent in the current and the same quarter of last year.

3. DOMESTIC ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENTS

3.1 REAL ECONOMY

Domestic economic activities were estimated to have moderated in the reviewed quarter, driven by slower growth in the agriculture and services sectors, reflecting the adverse effect of labour constraint on agriculture production and the gradual recovery of tourist and non tourist businesses from the liquidation of Air Vanuatu earlier this year. Growth in the industry sector is expected to remain constant driven by the ongoing implementation of major government infrastructure projects. Consumption and investment indicators have improved over the quarter. The demand for domestic labour was weak. Domestic prices have declined compared to the corresponding quarter last year; implying easing of domestic price pressures which escalated over the previous year.

Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry Sectors

Estimates of growth in the Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry sector moderated over the September quarter as production was impacted by persistent labour shortages, climate change associated risks, lack of adequate government and financing support, poor road conditions and the liquidation of Air Vanuatu.

Available indicators indicated a weak production of copra and beef, while cocoa production has increased. According to preliminary estimates, the quantity of copra production declined by 22.1 percent relative to the previous quarter, but rose by 27.6 percent compared to the same quarter last year. The annual trend reflected a slight increase of 0.2 percent in producers price per tonne; though prices for 2024 have remained stable for the past three consecutive quarters. The quantity of cocoa production rose significantly by 39.2 percent and 86.2 percent compared to the previous quarter and year, respectively. This significant improvement reflected favorable producer prices per tonne. In cattle production, the total number of cattle slaughtered fell by 14.7 percent and 16.3 percent over the quarter and year-on year.

According to monetary proxy indicators, lending to the agriculture sector fell quarter-on-quarter (-0.3%) and year-on-year (-2.8%), respectively. Likewise, lending to forestry sector though declined quarter-on-quarter (-7.4%), was up (+54.7%) relative to the same period of 2023. The fisheries sector, however, recorded robust increases in credit extension both quarter-on-quarter (+267.4%) and year-on-year (+97.4%).

Services Sector

Despite ongoing recovery in air arrivals during the reviewed quarter, preliminary estimates showed that a majority of indicators remained weak within the sector. According to preliminary estimates, total visitor arrivals decreased by 4.9 percent and 41.7 percent over the September quarter and over the same period of the previous year, respectively. This downturn reflected a fall (-20%) in the number of cruise ship arrivals. Air arrivals have recovered significantly from the impact of Air Vanuatu's liquidation, recording a rise of 68.4 percent relative to the previous quarter. The upward trend also coincided with the high peak season. Nevertheless, air arrivals were down (-35.6%) relative to a year ago.

Postal services decreased 10.2 percent and 8.8 percent, respectively, compared to the previous quarter and year. This trend was driven by declines in domestic and outbound international mails, offsetting an increase in inbound international mails.

Crude indicators of commercial banks sectoral lending indicated mixed results. Lending to the tourism sector contracted relative to the previous quarter (-1.2%) and year (-4.9%). Similarly, lending to professional and other services though fell by 0.1 percent quarter-on-quarter, rose 14.9 percent relative to a year ago. Loans extended to the wholesale and retail sector, however, increased by 3.2 percent and 14.9 percent over the quarter and same period of previous year.

Industry sector

Ongoing major infrastructure projects such as the South Santo, Pentecost, Ambae and Tanna road projects, the Vanuatu Inter-Islands Shipping Support Projects (South Paray Wharf), the Vanuatu Energy Access Projects (extension of electricity grid in Santo), the Sarakata hydro power extension, Norsup Airport extension projects, Teouma bridge construction and the Luganville Urban road projects continued to provide boost to overall growth in the industry sector during the reviewed quarter.

Partial indicators from commercial banks lending depicted mixed performances. Lending to construction increased relative to the previous quarter (+4.7%) and year (+21.2%), lending to the manufacturing sector declined quarter-on-quarter (-2.3%), though increased year-on-year (+4.3%). Similarly, lending to the mining and quarrying sector declined quarter-on-quarter (-1.6%) and year-on-year (-6.1%).

Consumption and Investment

Partial available consumption indicators showed positive results as demand for goods and services continue to increase amidst a growing population, increased preferences for varied goods and services, and easing prices. Accordingly, commercial banks' lending for personal consumption increased by 0.3 percent and 2.5 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year basis. Value added tax (VAT) picked up by 3.4 percent and 1.3 percent during the September quarter and over the year to September 2024 correspondingly. However, total energy consumption is estimated to have declined by 39.1 percent over the quarter and 27.0 percent over the year, respectively. In terms of investment, business investment have increased, commercial banks' credit to businesses rose 2.9 percent and 8.7 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively. Private sector investment was moderate, as reflected in a decline in commercial banks' lending for housing and land purchases (-0.8%), quarter-on-quarter) and (-4.4%, year-on-year).

Labor Market<sup>2</sup>

Domestic labour demand has eased somewhat in the reviewed quarter. This is reflected in the downward movement in the total number of job advertisements (-6.5%, quarter-on-quarter) and (-42.9% year-on-year). Job openings in the services sector have declined, thus attributed to the trend. In contrast, demand for jobs in the industry and agriculture sectors remained high as reflected in the rise in the number of job vacancies across these sectors. With reference to labour going abroad, the stock of domestic seasonal labour force overseas was estimated to have dropped (-19.6% (7,847 workers)) relative to the previous quarter and (-6.7% (8,409 workers)) from the same period of the previous year.

(Quarterly Level)

Inflation

Vanuatu's annual headline inflation fell below the RBV's minimum inflation target band of 0-4 percent during the September 2024 quarter. Inflation decreased (-1.9%) in the reviewed quarter compared to positive changes in the June 2024 quarter (+2.2%) and September 2023 quarter (+12.1%). Port-Vila index fell by 3.2 percent although Luganville and Lenakel indexes increased by 2.5 percent and 5.1 percent, respectively. Prices have eased from high peaks recorded in 2023, reflecting the lagged effects of reduction in international commodity prices, the compulsory use of scale in the local food markets and the absence of supply shocks leading to improvement in domestic food supplies. The underlying inflation eased to 2.3 percent, almost reaching its normal trend of 2 percent during the pre-pandemic period (2018-2019). This implied that in general prices of other goods and services, excluding energy and food, have eased.

(percentage; Quarterly Data)

The main categories contributing to the year-on-year deflation were food (-4.0%), drinks and tobacco (-0.2%), housing utilities (-12.1%) and communication (-2.4%) reflecting mainly reductions recorded in price of fruits and vegetables, wine and spirits, electricity, water supply charges and purchasing of new sim cards.

(percentage, Quarterly levels)

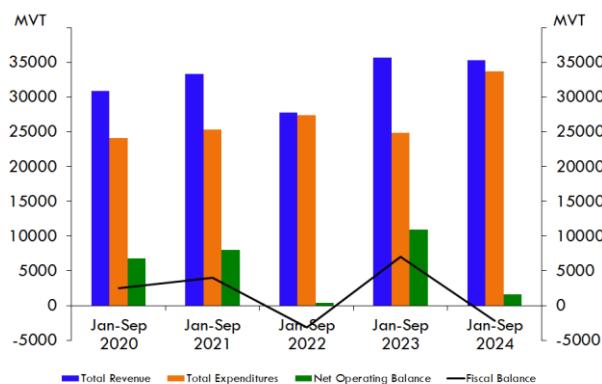

On a quarter-on-quarter basis, headline inflation dropped 1.1 percent in the September quarter, down from 0.5 percent recorded over the June quarter. The main expenditure categories attributing to the decline were: food (-2.0%), drinks and tobacco (-0.7%), clothing and footwear, housing and utilities, and transport (-0.4%). The main items within the categories recording reduction in prices were: fruits and vegetables, wine, clothing and accessories and services, electricity and water supply charges and automotive fuel and oils. Port-Vila index declined (-1.7%) although Luganville and Lenakel indexes recorded increases of (+0.8%) and (+1.6%), respectively.

3.2 FISCAL DEVELOPMENTS

The Central Government operated a total<sup>3</sup> fiscal deficit for the year to September 2024, comparative to a fiscal surplus in the same period of 2023. This downward trend reflected the combined effects of a slowdown in total revenue (mainly donor inflows) and increased expenditures for the year to September 2024, relative to the corresponding period of 2023.

Source: Department of Finance and Treasury

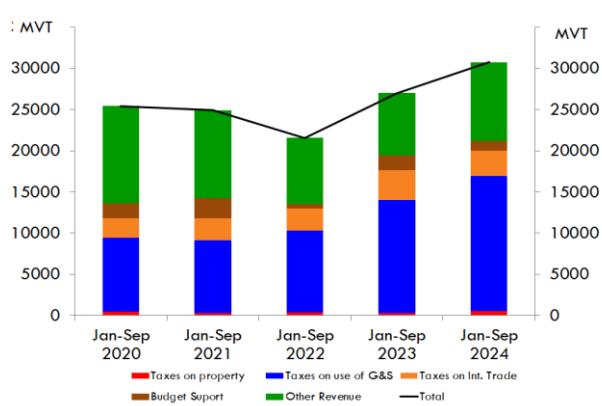

Total revenue<sup>4</sup> recorded VT35,310.7 million for the year to September 2024, lower by 1.1 percent relative to the same period of 2023. On the other hand, total expenses increased by 35.7 percent relative to the level recorded in the corresponding period of 2023, to reach VT24,834.0 million.

Though, total expenses increased over the year to September; its level was lower compared to total revenue; hence, resulted in a net operating surplus of VT1,600.5 million. Furthermore, after netting out the value of VT3,801.5 million in net acquisition of non-financial assets, an overall fiscal deficit of VT2,200.9 million was realized for the year to September 2024.

RECURRENT REVENUE

Recurrent revenue performed well in the first nine months of 2024. Collections reached VT30,754.0 million; showing an increase of 13.9 percent relative to the corresponding period of 2023. This upward trend reflected the increase in collections from taxes on property, taxes on goods and services and the honorary citizenship revenues, which offsetted reductions in collections from taxes on international trade and lower inflows from budget supports.

Source: Department of Finance and Treasury

Taxes on the use of goods and services<sup>5</sup> amounted to VT16,425.4 million in the reviewed period, higher by 19.5 percent relative to the level recorded in the corresponding period of 2023. This was attributed to the robust growths recorded for VAT<sup>6</sup> and other taxes. VAT remained the main source of government tax revenue; recording VT10,978.1 million to date. This was higher by 21.9 percent relative to the level recorded in the same period of 2023. The growth in VAT reflected continuous compliance measures implemented by authorities and persistently high consumption in the economy over the year to September 2024. Moreover, other taxes rose significantly by 33.1 percent to reach VT2,894.2 million. This reflected on-going compliance measures from relevant government authorities in efforts to maximize outstanding revenue collections from all relevant sources.

Taxes on property reached VT545.1 million in the reviewed quarter; a significant increase of 92.7 percent relative to the same period of 2023. This reflects continuing improved compliance by authorities in this particular tax collection efforts, since the beginning of 2024.

Other Revenue<sup>7</sup> recorded VT9,583.4 million over the year to September; higher by 36 percent relative from the same period of 2023 from improvement in revenue collections of citizenship by investment programs.

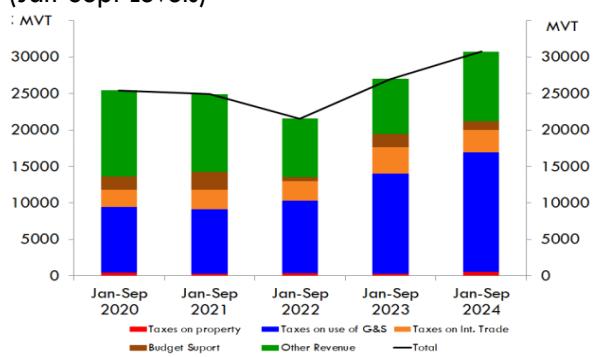

In contrary, taxes on international trade and transactions<sup>8</sup>, fell by 15.7 percent relative to the first nine months of 2023, to record VT3,065.3 million. This downward trend reflected a slowdown in total exports and imports for September quarter 2024 relative to same period of 2023.

Inflow of budget support also fell by 36.0 percent over the year to Septemebr, relative to same period of 2023; to record VT1,134.7 million.

RECURRENT EXPENDITURE

Recurrent expenses recorded VT30,463.8 million in the reviewed period, higher by 17.9 percent relative to the same period of 2023.

Source: Department of Finance and Treasury

The upward trend in expenditures reflected increased spendings for compensation of employees (wages and salaries), use of goods and services, subsidies and grants to grant bodies. On the other hand, reduced expenditures were recorded for interest payments, other expenditures and social benefits.

RECURRENT FISCAL BALANCE

A net operating surplus of VT290.2 million was recorded in the current quarter from higher revenue over expenditures. Financing, the value of VT1,999.3 million in net acquisition of non-financial assets from this balance, resulted in a recurrent fiscal deficit of VT1,709.1million for the year to September 2024.

DEVELOPMENT BUDGET

Total donor funds<sup>9</sup> received from donor partners recorded VT3,520.9 million over the year to September 2024. This was lower by 42.2 percent from the corresponding period of 2023. However, project grant expenses rose by 81.7 percent relative to expenditures recorded in same period of 2023, to reach VT3,190.6 million.

However, since donor funds inflows exceeded expenses, a net operating surplus of VT330 million was realized. Furthermore, financing the value of VT2,220.5 million in net acquisition of non-financial assets led to a fiscal deficit of VT1,890.2 million under donor financing.

FISCAL FINANCING

The central governments net acquisition of financial assets totals to VT329.8 million from January to September 2024. This positive level indicates that the Government has adequate level of financial assets; mainly deposits being held in financial institutions during the reviewed period. However, this level was lower by approximately 94.0 percent relative to same period in 2023; indicating that; though financial assets remained adequate, it has declined over the year to September 2024.

<sup>7</sup> Constituting fees and charges, approximately 80% of this is the honorary citizenship program fees (Vanuatu Contribution Program (VCP) and Vanuatu Development support program (VDSP)).

Furthermore, net incurrence of liabilities<sup>10</sup> recorded VT2,530.7 million. This reflected the offsetting effects of a net increase in domestic liabilities worth VT3,882.7 million, and, a net decline of VT1,352.0 million in external liabilities, respectively.

GOVERNMENT BOND MARKET

Outstanding Government bonds totalled VT16,592.6 million in the September quarter 2024. This level was lower by 0.3 percent quarter-on-quarter; but higher by 41.0 percent year-on-year, respectively. Of this amount, borrowing from the Reserve Bank constituted the largest share of 38.6 percent, followed by other financial institutions with 31.6 percent, commercial banks 28.6 percent and other residents with 1.7 percent.

3.3 MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

Banking sector activities have grown steadily in the first nine months of 2024. This was reflected by the steady increase in money supply by 3.8 percent and 8.4 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively to reach VT123,675.3 million. The quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year money growths were attributed mainly to the robust growths in domestic credit; and to a lesser extent, the slight growths in net foreign assets (NFA). In terms of its components, the quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year growths reflected the increase in both narrow money and quasi-money, respectively.

The RBV further tightened its monetary policy and undertook the following policy measures in September: i.) raising the RBV Policy rate from 2.25 percent to 2.75 percent, and ii.) raising the commercial banks capital adequacy ratio (CAR) from 10 percent to 12 percent. This further tightening aims to safeguard the RBV's objectives of price stability, adequacy of foreign reserves and financial sector stability over the short to medium term.

Other policy measures remained unchanged; the Liquid Asset Ratio (LAR), and the Statutory Reserve Deposit (SRD) were maintained at 5.0 percent and 5.50 percent, respectively. Overall, monetary conditions remained supportive of growth, as reflected by the persistent high level of excess reserves and sound capital position of commercial banks.

In terms of monetary policy targets, domestic annual inflation fell below the RBV's minimum target band, recording a decline of 1.9 percent in the September 2024 quarter relative to 2.2 percent in the June 2024 quarter. Official foreign reserves recorded VT69,517 million in the reviewed quarter, sufficient to cover approximately 6.8 months of imports. Furthermore, excess reserves recorded VT31,088.4 million at the end of the reviewed quarter, significantly high above the minimum excess reserves target of VT3,000 million.

DETERMINANTS OF MONEY SUPPLY

Net Foreign Assets (NFA)

Net foreign assets recorded slight growths of 1.8 percent and 0.3 percent, quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT84,992.4 million in September quarter of 2024. Growth reflected net inflows of foreign currencies recorded via the commercial banks; as their foreign assets have increased over the preceding quarter and year, respectively. On the other hand, the RBV has recorded net outflows of foreign reserves over the quarter and year, respectively, reflecting increased government external obligations and high import payments.

Domestic Claims

Domestic credit remained robust in the reviewed quarter; it expanded by 5.6 percent and 22.6 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively to reach VT64,324.1 million. These upward movements continued to reflect the significant increases in net claims on the central government and, to a lesser extent, the growth in private sector credit.

Private sector credit (PSC) expanded steadily over the year to the September quarter of 2024. This further reflected the steady growth in credit extended to both businesses and households and individuals; owing to consistent consumption and investment in the economy. Refer to Private sector lending under section 3.4: “Banking Sector Developments” for further analysis with respect to sectoral lending of PSC.

The Central Government’s net credit position vis-à-vis the banking system further deteriorated in the reviewed quarter. This reflected significant increases of 26.8 percent and 60.6 percent in net claims on the central government with the banking system, quarter-on-quarter and year-on year, respectively. The deterioration reflected new Government borrowings from the commercial banks during the quarter and the decline in Government deposits with the Reserve Bank, respectively.

(Levels, Billions of VT)

MEASURES OF MONEY SUPPLY

Money flow into the economy as represented by M1, surged 4.3 percent and 7.7 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT94,835.1 million in the reviewed quarter. The upward trend in M1 was determined by the increase in both of its component, currency in circulation and transferable deposits.

Currency in circulation grew 6.2 percent and 7.4 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT15,296.7 million. The upward trend in currency in circulation continues to reflect the increase in demand for currency during the reviewed quarter, as demand and consumption in the economy remained robust.

Transferable deposits rose by 4.0 percent and 7.8 percent, quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT79,538.4 million. The following sectors have accumulated their transferable deposits during the quarter and over the year, respectively, other financial corporations, other non-financial corporations and other resident sectors.

Source: Other Depository Corporations, RBV

Quasi-money recorded VT28,840.2 million in the current quarter. This was an increase of 1.9 percent quarter-on-quarter and 7.8 percent year-on-year, respectively. The upward trends reflected the increase in interest bearing deposits of other non-financial corporations, other resident sectors and Non-residents. On the other hand, other depository corporations and other financial institutions recorded reductions in their interest-bearing deposits.

INTEREST RATES<sup>11</sup>

Interest rates have slightly increased in the current quarter; as depicted by the slight rise in the interest rate spread over the quarter. However, interest rates have been relatively lower compared to previous year.

The weighted average interest rates on total deposits remained at 0.29 percent, as previously recorded in the June 2024 quarter. However, this was relatively lower by 0.08 percentage points over the year to the current quarter. Furthermore, the weighted average interest rates on fixed deposits fell by 0.02 percentage points quarter-on-quarter and 0.38 percentage points year-on-year, respectively, to 0.82 percent.

In terms of lending rates, the weighted average interest rates on total lending slightly rose 0.04 percentage points quarter-on-quarter, but fell by 0.27 percentage points year-on-year, respectively, to 8.56 percent.

(Percent, Month-End Rates)

The effect of the slight increase in weighted average interest rate on total lending rate (while deposit rates remained unchanged), resulted in a slight widening of the interest rate spread by 0.04 percentage points to 8.27 percent, during the reviewed quarter. In contrast, interest rates spread was lower by 0.19 percentage points relative to the September 2023 quarter.

MONETARY BASE (M0)

Base money<sup>12</sup> rose by 5.0 percent and 1.4 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT55,747.4 million in the reviewed quarter. The upward trend recorded quarter-on-quarter was attributed to the increase in currency in circulation, Statutory Reserve Deposit (SRD) and excess reserves. Similarly, the year-on-year growth reflected increases in currency in circulation and SRD. Excess reserves rose by 6.1 percent, quarter-on-quarter, but fell by 2.1 percent year-on-year, to record VT31,088.4 million. The growth in excess reserves quarter-on-quarter reflected the deterioration in the Governments net credit position with the RBV. SRD rose by 0.7 percent and 9.1 percent, quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT5,137.9 million. The quarterly increase in SRD implies that deposits have slightly rose over the preceding quarter. Furthermore, the annual increase reflected the increase in SRD ratio being implemented in the first quarter of 2024. Currency in circulation rose quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, as previously mentioned<sup>13</sup>.

OTHER FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS (OFI)<sup>14</sup>

Majority of the OFI assets such as net foreign assets, shares and other equity and loans have increased relative to the corresponding quarter of the previous year. While deposits with commercial banks and investment in Government bonds decline relative to a year ago.

<sup>11</sup>Interest rates in Vanuatu have always been characterised by very high lending rates and low deposits rates.

OFls holdings of net foreign assets (NFA) remained at VT832.0 million, as recorded in the previous quarter. Though, this level was relatively higher by 1.4 percent compared to the same period in 2023. Deposits of OFls with commercial banks fell by 9.7 percent and 30.8 percent quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT1,438.1 million. This reflected the continuous withdrawal of funds to finance normal expenditures and investments of the OFls. Shares and other equity rose by 21.9 percent and 22.1 percent, quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year, respectively, to reach VT9,294.0 million. Furthermore, total outstanding loans extended to creditors by OFls rose by 1.6 percent quarter-on-quarter and 9.4 percent, year-on-year, respectively, to VT4,070.5 million.

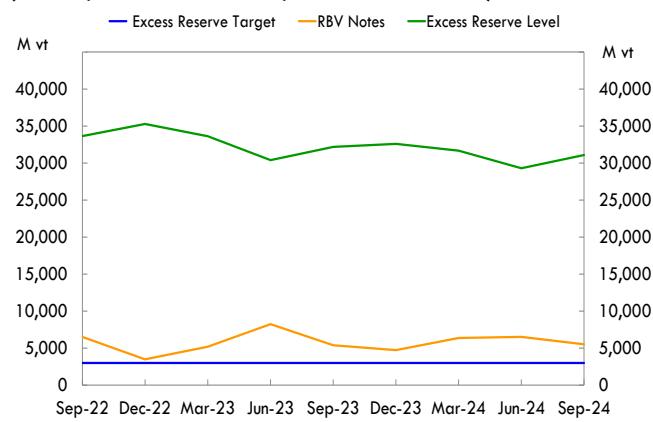

In contrast, investment on Government bonds by OFls fell by 8.2 percent quarter-on-quarter, to reach VT4,544.0 million. This was also lower by 5.3 percent year-on-year; as some bonds held by OFls have matured during the reviewed quarter.

In terms of liabilities, insurance and technical reserves rose by 10.2 percent quarter-on-quarter and 14.2 percent year-on-year to record VT29,319.82 million. Furthermore, deposits held by other financial institutions rose 21.5 percent and 58.4 percent, quarter-on-quarter and year-on year, respectively, to reach VT576.2 million. This reflected mainly the increase in deposits as collaterals for lending by one of the OFls.

MONEY MARKET DEVELOPMENT

Commercial banks' excess reserves recorded VT31,088.4 million in the current quarter, up from VT29,302.8 million in the previous quarter. The upward movement was mainly due to the deterioration in net claims on the Government via the RBV.

This reflected quarterly increases in both domestic and foreign assets by 2.0 percent to VT135.4 billion and 5.6 percent to VT47.5 billion, respectively. Annually, domestic assets recorded growth of 4.8 percent and foreign assets recorded growth of 18.6 percent.

Financial Position

(Levels; Billions of Vatu)

Total domestic assets increased, as claims on RBV, central government and private sector registered quarter-on-quarter inclines of 8.5 percent to VT42.8 billion, 16.2 percent to VT5.0 billion and 2.1 percent to VT68.1 billion, respectively. On the other hand, cash (VUV), claims on other local government, other financial corporations, non-financial institutions, and other domestic assets dropped by 0.6 percent to VT4.2 billion, 39.2 percent to VT10.3 million, 21.4 percent to VT223.5 million, 1.9 percent to VT1.4 billion and 16.5 percent to VT13.4 billion correspondingly, during the quarter. Year-on-year, claims on other local government, other financial corporations, non-financial institutions and other domestic assets decreased by 52.2 percent, 42.0 percent, 4.4 percent and 5.6 percent, respectively. On the other hand, all else reported increases, cash (VUV) increased by 10.6 percent, claims on RBV by 4.4 percent, central government by 52.8 percent and private sector by 5.1 percent.

The domestic assets of the banking industry are comprised of claims on private sector (37.3 percent), claims on RBV (23.4 percent), other domestic assets (7.3 percent), claims on central government (2.8 percent), cash (VUV) (2.3 percent), claims on non-financial institution (0.8 percent), claims on other financial corporations (0.2 percent), financial institution (0.1 percent) and claims on other local government (0.01 percent).

The increase in foreign assets was largely attributed to 8.8 percent quarterly increase in balances due from financial institutions abroad to VT32.6 billion and 5.1 percent increase in claims on non-residents to VT13.6 billion. Foreign currency cash depicted a decline of 39.9 percent to VT1.2 billion over the quarter. On an annual basis, claims on non-residents grew by 15.1 percent as well as claims on financial institutions abroad which recorded growth of 21.4 percent.

Foreign currency cash depicted an annual decline of 6.5 percent.

Capital Adequacy

The domestic banking industry remains well capitalized with a capital adequacy ratio (CAR) of 23.6 percent (24.1%: Jun-24 and 24.2%: Sep-23) at the end of the reviewed quarter which is well above the minimum threshold of 12.0 percent.

The slight decrease in CAR was mostly attributed to 2.0 percent expansion in total risk weighted assets (TRWA) to VT97.6 billion coupled with the 0.1 percent decrease in capital base to VT23.0 billion. Over the year, both capital base and TRWA grew by 7.3 percent and 10.1 percent correspondingly.

The incline in TRWA was due to increase in both on and off balance sheet risks by 2.1 percent to VT88.7 billion and 7.4 percent to VT1.6 billion, respectively, whilst operational risk stabilized at VT9.1 billion over the quarter. Year-on-year saw increases in both on balance sheet risk weighted assets and operational risks by 10.3 percent and 15.1 percent respectively while off balance sheet risk assets reduced by 26.5 percent.

(Quarterly Data) (Levels, Billions of Vatu)

The reviewed period also saw a reduction in capital base, mainly due to 0.2 percent decrease in tier 1 capital to VT20.2 billion, regardless of, tier 2 capital expanding by 24.7 percent quarter-on-quarter to VT4.0 billion. The decline in tier 1 capital resulted from the increase in adjustments to capital while increase in tier 2 capital mostly reflected increase in year-to-date profits. Over the year both tier 1 and tier 2 capital rose by 12.2 percent and 5.9 percent, respectively.

Financial Performance

The industry's financial performance remained satisfactory. The reviewed quarter registered underlying profits of VT1.2 billion, which was more than that of the previous quarter and year by 6.5 percent 31.0 percent, correspondingly. The quarterly increase mostly reflected the increase in total operating income over the quarter by 3.3 percent to VT3.3 billion despite the increase in total operating expenses by 2.7 percent to VT2.0 billion. Similarly, a yearly increase of 15.3 percent and 8.5 percent was witnessed in both total operating income and total operating expenses in that order.

Interest income grew over the quarter and year by 3.0 and 8.3 percent to VT2.0 billion, respectively. Equally, interest expense increased by 0.6 percent and 31.8 percent, respectively to VT241.9 million. Consequently, net interest income expanded by 3.4 percent quarter-on-quarter to VT1.7 billion, which was a 5.6 percent increment annually. Non-interest income increased quarterly and yearly by 3.6 percent and 27.9 percent to VT1.3 billion. Non-interest expense rose to VT1.8 billion representing a quarterly increase of 3.0 percent; yearly increase of 6.0 percent.

Despite favourable economic indicators, the industry continues to allocate provisions to mitigate credit risks. Specific provisions expenses for loan losses increased significantly, rising by 796.2 percent over the quarter and 258.0 percent year-on-year to reach VT597.0 million. In contrast, general provision expenses recorded a net reversal of VT169.4 million representing a reduction of 203.1 percent compared to the previous quarter and 27.2 percent compared to the same period last year. Specific provisions expenses for other losses rose to VT4.0 million from zero in the previous quarter, but reflected a 90.0 percent decline on an annual basis. Therefore, the industry recorded a net profit of VT727.4 million compared to VT957.9 million recorded at the end of the previous quarter and VT981.5 million recorded in the same quarter of the previous year.

The financial performance of the banking sector this quarter resulted in slight declines in profitability ratios, with annualised ROA falling to 2.0 percent (2.2%: Jun-24), and ROE to 13.9 percent (15.4%: Jun-24). Interest margin to gross income also declined to 58.7 percent (59.7%: Jun-24). Additionally, non-interest expense to gross income rose to 56.9 percent (55.6%: Jun-24) indicating rising operational costs relative to income generation.

(Quarterly Data) (Levels, Millions of Vatu)

Asset Quality

The industry's loan book shows further deterioration over the quarter as non-performing loans (NPLs)<sup>15</sup> increased by 2.1 percent to VT13.9 billion, representing 27.9 percent rise over the year. The NPLs-to-gross-loans<sup>16</sup> ratio recorded 16.7 percent (16.7%: Jun-24, 13.9%: Sep-23). The net NPLs-to-capital ratio remains high albeit decreasing to 48.0 percent (48.3%: Jun-24; 35.2%: Sep-23) driven by increased provisioning despite the slight decline in capital.

Majority of the lending book, 83.4 percent remained as performing loans, comprising standard and special mention loans. Standard loans rose by 3.5 percent quarterly and 2.7 percent yearly to VT64.0 billion. In contrast, special mention loans decreased quarterly by 7.6 percent to VT5.8 billion, but increased annually by 8.3 percent. The movements within the performing loan categories resulted mainly from increase in credits and loan reclassifications during the period.

Development within the high credit risk categories saw substandard loans decrease significantly by 40.7 percent quarterly to VT4.8 billion but increased by 4.3 percent year-on-year. Furthermore, doubtful loans rose both quarterly and yearly by 11.9 percent and 7.3 percent correspondingly to VT3.3 billion. (Share of Total Loans, By Loan Category)

Private Sector Lending

The private sector credit<sup>17</sup> (PSC) recorded growth during the quarter, with increases of 1.9 percent quarterly and 5.0 percent yearly to VT70.0 billion. The expansion reflected general rise in demand for credits within the economy despite banks continuing to maintain tight book management. Major sectors contributing to the increase includes: transport (30.5 percent to VT2.2 billion), construction (4.6 percent to VT3.3 billion), distribution (2.0 percent to VT6.6 billion), and personal (2.2 percent to VT39.0 billion).

In contrast, the following major sectors depicted quarter-on-quarter declines: agriculture (-0.4% to VT0.8 billion), manufacturing (-2.0% to VT1.3 billion), government (-1.7% to VT1.7 billion), professional & other services (-0.3% to VT7.6 billion) and tourism (-1.2% to VT6.7 billion).

3.5 INSURANCE SECTOR DEVELOPMENTS

Domestic Insurers

Total admissible asset for the reviewed period decreased by 24 percent to VT2.078 billion (VT 2.731 billion: Jun-24). The decline is attributed to a significant drop in reinsurance recoveries by 5870 percent to VT103 million (VT1.7 million: Jun-24). Amount due to reinsurers decreased by 87 percent to VT19.8 million (VT150 million: Jun-24). Cash at Hand decreased by 15 percent to 1.8 billion (VT 2.2 billion: Jun-24). Figure 33: Financial Position
(Billions of Vatu, Quarterly Data)

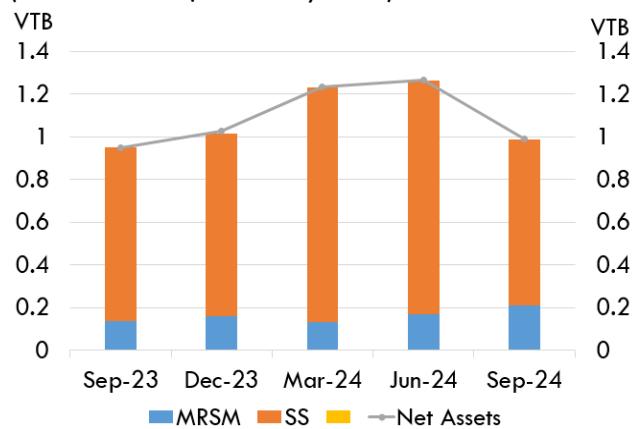

Total Insurance liability decreased by 26 percent to VT1.09 billion (VT1.4 billion: Jun-24). ### 4.1 BALANCE OF PAYMENTS

The negative current account balance (CAB) is estimated to have improved by VT3.1 billion (29.6%) compared to June quarter (VT -4.4 billion) in 2024. CAB was driven downwards primarily by improvements in net balances of the negative trade in goods and services accounts outweighing deteriorations in the positive primary and secondary income balances. The capital account remained weak while the financial account balance recorded slight deterioration.

Trade in Goods and Services

Vanuatu's trade in goods balance is estimated to improve by 17.0 percent over the September quarter in 2024 to VT 8.4 billion from VT 10.1 billion in the June quarter 2024. This is compared to a deterioration recorded over the June quarter period. The improvement recorded over the quarter was mainly driven by a 81.1 percent increase on total exports of goods (estimated to reach VT2.7 billion in September) along with a 4.0 percent contraction on total imports of goods (estimated to reach VT11.1 billion)<sup>18</sup>. The main drivers of exports over the reviewed quarter were kava (+103.7 percent), cocoa (121.9 percent) and other exports of goods (+496.7 percent). The main drivers of imports over the reviewed quarter were food (-11 percent) and mineral fuels (-33 percent).

Trade in services balance was estimated to further deteriorate by VT 670 million over the September quarter from VT 2.7 billion deficit in the June quarter 2024. Accordingly, overall inward service receipts increased by 26 percent driven mainly by travel receipts and telecommunication receipts. The noticeable improvements reflected the pickup in air visitor arrivals outweighing reductions in cruise visitor arrivals.

Overall outward service payments declined by 16 percent driven mainly by travel payments, telecommunication payments and other business payments.

Primary Income Account

The positive primary income account balance decreased by 32.8 percent in the September quarter 2024 relative to the previous quarter driven primarily by higher primary income payments outweighing mild reductions of primary income receipts.

Consequently, primary income receipts (credit) decreased by 1.7 percent (VT 5.2 billion) in the September quarter 2024 from -0.2 percent (VT 5.3 billion) in the June quarter 2024. This reduction was attributed to a 28.5 percent decrease in compensation of employees receipts over the reporting period while investment income receipts from abroad notably increased reflecting mainly increased income from RBV's investments abroad.

Conversely, primary income payments (debit) increased by 46.7 percent (VT3.1 billion) relative to -11.1 per cent (VT2.1 billion) recorded in the June quarter 2024. The increase was driven mainly by reinvested earnings of foreign direct investment businesses' activities which increased by 38.1 percent (VT1.8 billion) relative to 24.9 percent (VT1.3 billion) in the June quarter 2024.

Source: RBV

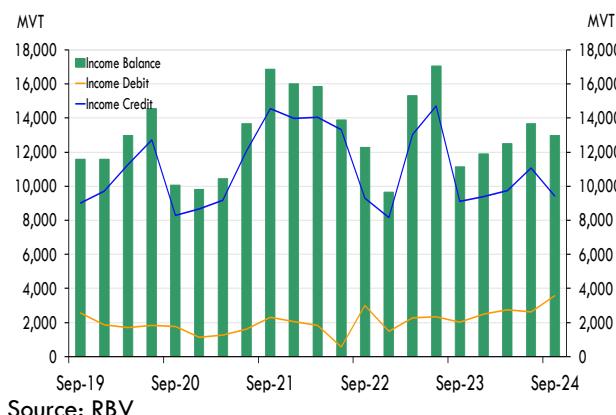

<sup>18</sup> These estimates shows that Vanuatu's imports of goods are about 7 times higher than its exports of goods.

Secondary Income Account

The secondary income balance worsened by -27.8 percent (VT 3.7 billion) from 347.7 percent (VT 4.9 billion) recorded in the June quarter 2024 as inward transfers declined outweighing reductions of outward transfers.

Inward transfers declined by 26.1 percent reflecting both decreases of transfers to both the government sector and private sector by 28.6 percent and 19.7 percent respectively. Outward transfers declined by 9.2 percent underpinned predominantly by a 23.4 percent reduction of government related outward transfers.

Capital Account<sup>19</sup>

The Capital account balance is estimated to decrease by 41.4 percent (VT 846 million) in September 2024 from VT 1.4 billion recorded in the previous quarter. These developments stemmed mainly from both reductions of financing for capital purposes in terms of cash to both the general government and the private sector.

Financial account

The negative financial account balance<sup>20</sup> is estimated to have increased over the quarter by 17 percent due to increased liabilities outweighing increased financial assets. Financial assets were estimated to improve by VT 1.9 billion in the September 2024 from VT 385

<sup>19</sup> The capital account generally reflects gross disposals of non-produced nonfinancial assets in the form of funds and aid in kind to the government and other sectors.

<sup>21</sup> The movements of the Vanuatu Vatu currency vis-à-vis the major currencies over the reviewed quarter reflected developments in the economic and financial conditions of Vanuatu and its major trading partners. An appreciation of Vatu against its major trading currencies is beneficial for the Vanuatu economy as resident million in the June quarter 2024 driven by other investment transactions in terms of currency and deposits. Financial liabilities worsened by 90.5 percent (VT 3.9 billion) over the September quarter 2024 from VT 2.1 billion in June quarter 2024. The increase in financial liabilities was mainly driven by foreign direct investment transactions and other investment transactions.

Net official foreign reserves decreased by 1.0 percent in Vatu value on September 2024 relative to the June quarter 2024 to VT 69,517 Million ($593 million USD) from VT 70,236 million ($592 million USD) and it has decreased year-on-year by 2.7 percent. This remained adequate to finance approximately 6.8 months of import cover.

Vanuatu's International Investment Position (IIP)

Vanuatu's net international investment position (IIP) is estimated to have improved by 6.5 percent in the September quarter mainly due to a 1.5 percent increase in overall stock of foreign assets outweighing -1.0 percent decrease in the stock of foreign liabilities.

4.2 EXCHANGE RATE DEVELOPMENTS<sup>21</sup>

Over the reviewed period, the Vatu appreciated against the USD by 2.5 percent while it has depreciated against the AUD, NZD and EURO by 1.2, 1.5 and 1.6 percent respectively. On average, the Vatu appreciated against the USD by 1.2 percent and depreciated against the AUD by 0.6 percent in September 2024 relative to June 2024. importers will need less Vatu currency to purchase foreign goods or services in foreign currency terms. Conversely, a depreciation of Vatu against its major trading currencies could be costly for Vanuatu's consumers, importers and institutions that have investments in Vanuatu as they will need more Vatu in exchange for foreign currencies while it benefits the Vanuatu's exporters and institutions that have investments abroad
